ROSES.

In making Rose growing a specialty, great care is taken in growing only such roses suitable to South Africa, especially Cape Colony.

A number of New Roses are introduced yearly, and if found suitable are offered for sale.

As the roses sent out are of good quality and free of Insect Pest, besides being fumigated according to the regulations laid down under the Agricultural Pests Act, good results may be depended upon.

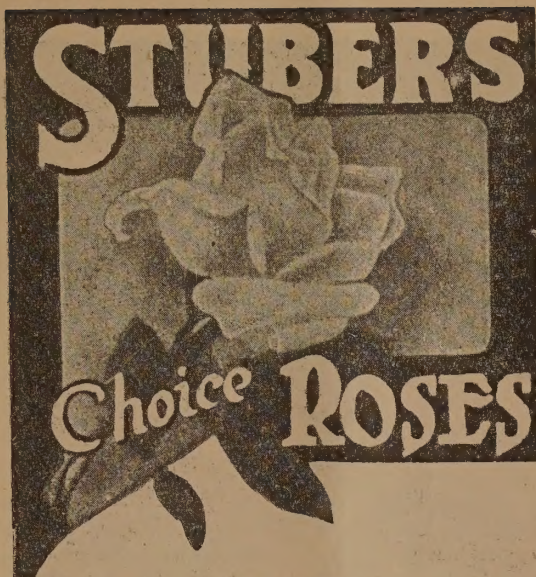

Roses grown in tins are kept in stock for planting out of season and in districts with summer rain.

All articles offered in this catalogue are subject to not being sold out; if so, substitutes will be given unless otherwise instructed.

All goods to be sent by post or rail will be carefully packed, for which cost price only will be charged; carriage and risk to be borne by purchaser. Local delivery will be made free of charge.

Cash or satisfactory references from unknown correspondents will oblige. Remittances as Postal Orders or Notes, Colonial Stamps, and Cheques on any South African Bank are acceptable. To save time and expense, small orders should in all cases be accompanied with remittance.

Unless specially instructed, such mode of transit of goods will be chosen which is, to my best judgment, in the interests of customers. All plants sent by rail or post as S.A. produce are charged at reduced rates, and being marked perishable no delay in transit should occur.

PRICES:

BUSH ROSES: Choice varieties, first quality plants, 2/0 each; 21/0 per doz.; second size plants, 1/9 each; 17/6 per doz.; extra strong plants, special selected and booked, 2/6 to 3/6 each nett.

STANDARD ROSES: 7/6 each.

CLIMBING ROSES: 2/0 each; 21/0 per dozen.

RAMBLER ROSES: 1/6 each; 15/0 per dozen.

DWARF POLYANTHUS ROSES: 1/6 each; 16/0 per doz.

To secure strong plants orders should be placed early.

A fair stock of any variety of roses offered are grown but still it is not always possible to execute later in the season all orders in full, so it will be advisable to place a few additional names on your order to select from, or allow substitutes to be grown.

If selection is left to me, please mention for what purpose the roses are required, and the position where they are to be planted.

To save disappointment to beginners in rose growing, the selection may be entrusted to me, and the most suitable will be supplied.

A FEW HINTS ON ROSES.

The best time for planting roses is end of June to August, but may be continued until September. The dryness of the climate in the Western Province from January to March makes it possible to transplant them in March and April.

The ground should be trenched two to three feet deep and well intermixed with decayed manure or other organic matter, if possible two to four weeks previous to planting. In too sandy soil some clay and organic matter should be added, whereas in heavy dry, sand and wood ashes can be added to render it porous and friable. If it is not possible to trench the whole ground, holes not less than 2½ feet in dimension should be taken up, and old manure, etc., added in refilling. New or virgin soil is preferable in starting a rose garden.

In planting, the roots should be well spread out. The point where budded should be one inch below the soil. Care should be taken not to let the roots be exposed any longer than necessary, therefore it is advisable to heel the plants well in immediately after unpacking. Before planting, well pruning back of growth and slight pruning of the roots is required. Plant firm, and water liberally after planting.

To make rose growing a success, the trees should be free of insect pest, especially "Red Scale", and great care should be taken not to bring healthy plants in contact with scale-infested plants.

The pruning and cleaning up of roses should be effected in July, and may be continued in August. All weak growth should be removed, the stronger branches cut back to one-third their previous year's growth. Tea Roses and Climbing Roses do not require so severe a pruning, but all weak and dead wood must be removed.

Keep the soil well loose, and manure liberally in season. Liquid manure applied when the Roses are in buds improves the size and colour.
